

BRIEFLETS.

—Fishday.

—Temple of Honor meeting to-night.

—Be careful where you throw the ashes.

—Whos January! You're going too fast.

—The alleyways are being paved with oyster-cans.

—Now is the best time to salt down beef and sidewalks.

—Tramps are more plenty as the traveling becomes better.

—Another pleasant party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Stevens.

—There is no capital punishment in Wisconsin and yet a jury may decide to hang.

—The Ancient Order of United Workmen hold a regular meeting this evening.

—There is no use looking for the new moon. It's just like the one that was here a month ago.

—There is a storm brewing. Some revenue agent ought to arrest it for not having a license.

—Another big shipment of frozen fish reached the city yesterday and met with a ready sale.

—My Awful Dad" will be introduced by John Dillon at the Opera House next Tuesday evening.

—Dickerson's life isn't out yet, and probably won't be finished for some time, as they don't hang in this State.

—At the revival meetings at the First Methodist church as many as twenty have come forward for prayers at once.

—The mason work on Michael Farrell's new store on West Milwaukee street is being pushed right along in spite of chilling winter blasts.

—Marshal Keating is at Rockford as witness in the case of the man charged with putting obstructions on the railroad track near Beloit.

—H. J. Wilkinson, of Lima, has been chosen Secretary of the State Wool-Growers' Association, and George Cleland, of Janesville, as one of the directors.

—The Art Section of the Mutual Improvement Club meets to-night, in accordance with the postponement occasioned by the entertainment given by Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson, last Monday night.

—Senator Richardson and Assemblyman Lovejoy returned this afternoon from Madison for a stay at home until Monday, the Legislature having adjourned till then.

—The front of the saloon next to McKey's on Main street was smashed out last night, and enough noise made in that vicinity to do for a half dozen good street fights. No arrests.

—The gardening season is not so far off but what the seed business has commenced. Heimstreet has just received a large stock of Vick's flour seeds for 1879, and those who want to make a selection should call early.

—The Round Table will meet to-morrow evening. Subject—John Ruskin. Papers will be presented by Rev. A. L. Royce, Mrs. E. B. Haire, W. B. Terry, Mrs. C. Collins, Prof. J. S. Van Cleave, and Rev. T. P. Sawin.

—Miss Angie King has established her law office on the second floor of the building occupied by the Gazette. It is to be hoped that she will find her clients as plenty as her well-wishers. If so, she will be kept busy.

—There is no need of using the postoffice floor for a spittoon. A few months filled with tobacco will demoralize it more than a score of muddy feet, and if it wasn't for the sweeping trails worn by the women, the scrub-brush would have to be used twice a day.

—Missionary work is still kept up at the jail. It is suggested that if these Christianizing influences could be brought to a focus on some of the boys who spend their evenings on the streets instead of at home, the effects would be more beneficial. An ounce of prevention, etc.

—Yeager & McKay, the livermen, have commenced a civil suit as well as a criminal prosecution against Fox and his companion Mills, who are charged with having killed a horse by overdriving. The criminal case has been transferred from Justice Prichard to Justice Balch, the former not having jurisdiction.

—The militiamen are bringing a pressure to bear upon the legislature to get the name of the State Militiamen changed to National Guards of Wisconsin. It is expected that arrangement will soon be made for organizing the present companies into two regiments.

—A man was easily duped yesterday. He fortunately, or unfortunately, was the possessor of a wessel skin, which some one told him was worth fully $3. Like the celebrated John Collins he was sent from one to another, each assuring him that the other man was buying furs. The poor man was thus kept on the tramp from pillar to post for nearly half a day, and was finally sent to a private house, the woman of which felt insulted and had her big brother put him out.

—Talk about whisky loosening up a man's tongue. It's nothing to cold water. The temperance meetings have called out some oratory which has been laid away in a napkin for a long time. At Beloit the other night all hands were surprised to hear the speech-making indulged in by some, who were supposed to be tongue-tied. The got fired up, and the sentences rolled out hot and earnest. Those who really need any first-class temperance talkers should send to Janesville, and get a sleigh load or two to help them out.

—The ambitious Jesus gave a very pleasant matinee to quite a crowd upon the ice yesterday. There were numerous brushes between trotters, pacers and runners. Parties who witnessed the fun declare it better than the usual racing at the fair grounds. The "McKey" mare acquitted herself with credit, and seemed the "boss." Johnny Griffith's pacer was evidently the fastest, but John had a friend with him, as usual, whose weight prevented the pacer from doing his best. We understand the owners of fast nags intend to make it hot for McKey Ma Saturday afternoon. As the ice is perfectly safe we expect to see quite a crowd present.

BOWER CITY BAND.

Their Annual Election and Various Other Items of Interest Concerning Them.

The Bower City Band held its annual meeting last evening and listened to the reports of the Treasurer and Secretary, after which the following were chosen as officers for the ensuing year:

Director and Business Manager—D. D. Bennett.

Leader—C. F. Wheeler.

Secretary—Walter Helms.

Treasurer—Adam Sanner.

Janitor—Ed. Reed.

Mr. Fenner Kimball, who has been one of the oldest and most active members of the organization, and to whose efforts, as much or more than to the efforts of any other one person, is due the credit of the prosperity which has attended the organization, resigned his active membership. He was unanimously placed upon the roll of honorary members, and chosen as honorary business manager. The Band also showed their appreciation of his valuable services by a vote of thanks and by many less formal but no less earnest expressions of mingled regrets and gratitude.

The Bower City Band was organized in 1863. For some years before there had been a band here, but the organization contained none of the elements of perpetuity, and its membership was constantly changing. On the breaking out of the war the musicians, known then as the Janesville Band, became a part of the Fifth regiment, and remained in the service until 1863, when the order was issued reducing the number of musicians. On their return the members together with others joined in organizing the present Bower City Band. In 1870 the Band became a regular chartered organization.

Its present membership is as follows: D. D. Bennett, C. F. Wheeler, St. Kent, George Horne, Charles Reum, A. Geiss, Frank Gray, Walter Helms, Neff, Herman Buchholz, Louis Anderson, M. V. Loudon, A. Sanner, James Loudon, E. Reed.

During the past year the receipts have been about $500, which is somewhat smaller than in years gone by, the income having some years reached $900. The falling off is only such as has resulted naturally from hard times, and the struggle to cut down all expenditures except for absolute necessities. The above amount includes last year's annual concert but not this year's. The concerts given in the Congregational church lately netted them $80, and their expenses were higher than on any previous occasion. The financial condition of the Band is good, and although the mere matter of money is not enough to furnish any measurable recompense for their services, yet it serves to pay expenses and lighten the sacrifice of time and strength. The Band never was in as good shape as now, and never as capable of handling choice music. During the year the Band has averaged two nights a week in practice, which has served to make them gain steadily in their work. It is safe to say that Janesville has in the Bower City Band as fine a musical organization of its kind as any city in the State can produce, and the citizens should all take pride in it, and be ready to encourage, as far as possible, this commendable enterprise.

THE VETERANS' DANCE.

The Veterans' dance at Apollo hall last evening was quite well attended, and all who participated were unanimous in expressing their satisfaction at the arrangements which had been made for their comfort and pleasure. The hall was very tastefully and elaborately decorated. In the center was a large flag, while around the walls and crossed above the windows and on the gas fixtures were many smaller ones. At the top of each window casing were crossed rifles with flashing bayonets, and on the walls were hung some beautiful oil paintings, mostly from the easels of Lieutenant La Grange and Corporal Bintliff. On the south wall appeared the large painting "Held Waters of the Mississippi," La Grange's largest and best painting. It was draped with the American colors while above it rested a drum, on each side of which glittering bayonets were arranged, and just above this appeared an eagle, while surmounting all was a monogram, "J. V.," encircled with swords, and grazed by a bugle. With such decorations the hall presented a very attractive appearance, and still more so when the floor became filled with the joyous party indulging in the merry dance. Here and there in the company appeared the flash of military costume. The Veterans appeared for the first time in their new uniforms, which consist of dark blue cloth with light blue trimmings, and the usual glittering ornaments. The uniform is soldierly, and shows to good advantage. A number of the members of the Fire Department also appeared in uniform, adding much to the gala appearance of the gathering. The fire lads have laid aside the flashy flannel, and left that for the lumbermen in the pines, and the hand engines at the crossroads to monopolize, and they now appear in dark blue suits, presenting a very neat and tasteful appearance, and yet with enough of military show to indicate their official character. The East side firemen have not their uniforms finished, but enough appeared last evening to give those present an idea of what they are to be. The uniforms are of dark blue with regulation buttons of white metal. The coats are cut in frock pattern, double breasted, while the usual ornaments are used to indicate the different official ranks. Caps are to be used for head coverings, they being of the same style as those worn by Knight Templars, while on the front appears a wreath enclosing the number of the company. The enjoyability of the occasion last evening was not however confined to a display of gents' furnishing goods or to ladies' fineries. Rubin's orchestra, with their enlivening strains, set the feet in motion and the merry whirl caused the hours to spin away lively. A pleasing incident of the evening was the appearance of Mayor Norcross who made a few patriotic remarks, complimentary to the Veterans. This company may well congratulate themselves on the success which has attended their efforts, and may rest assured that they are not only growing in prosperity but in popularity. It was expected that several of their brother militiamen from Beloit and Whitewater would be present, but for some reason they could not. Capt. Baker this morning received a letter from Capt. Partridge, of Whitewater, expressing his regrets and stating the reasons why he and his confederates could not be here, one of which was that the Whitewater soldiers present a dramatic entertainment there this evening, the preparation for which has monopolized their spare time.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 28 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock at 44 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 32 and 43 degrees above.

The indications to-day are southerly and westerly winds, rising barometer, and partly cloudy weather.

A BAD TUMBLE.

W. S. Clayton, express messenger on the Monroe and Milwaukee express train, met with a painful accident yesterday while in Milwaukee. It appears that in stepping out of a store onto the sidewalk, he slipped and he fell heavily upon the stone walk, breaking the knee pan and fracturing a bone in one leg. He was conveyed to the residence of Mr. McArthur, the express agent, and placed under surgical treatment. It is thought that he will be unable to be removed to his home at Monroe under three weeks.

"MY AWFUL DAD."

John Dillon who is to be here with the Wallace Combination next Tuesday night has been shaking up the dry-bones all along his route. The Springfield State Journal says of him:

There was more crowd, more noise, more laugh and more jolly happiness than there has been seen, heard or felt in the Opera House for a month of Sundays, last evening, to see that king of fun makers, John Dillon, in "My Awful Dad." The house was full of people, and full of fun; it was a splendid audience splendidly entertained. But they didn't behave with proper dignity, there was too much fun in the play for that, they laughed, and stamped, and shouted, and broke the benches and raised thunder generally, they left too good for any use. John Dillon never played better, never laughed so playfully better suited to his peculiar powers. There's fun enough in him as "My Awful Dad" to last a negro minstrel show for eighteen months.

ON THE ICE.

I have beaten the Bay mare owned by Will McKey, Esq., when driven by Mr. Tom, little Will, and Jack McKey, and will beat her to-morrow (D. V.) when driven by Mr. Ald. McKinney; to drive on the ice above the dam at 3 p. m. I kindly invite Dr. Judd, and all trotting men, and horses, to be there and help the sport. All to be done on honor, and in kindness. DR. WM. HORNE.

Mrs. Sarah A. Elliott.

Authors of "Mrs. Elliott's Household," Oxford, N. C. writes: I was among the first that used the "London Hair Color Restorer" in this section, and recommended it to M. A. & C. A. Santos, Norfolk, Va., as the most beautiful hair dresser and preserver I had ever seen. I was advised by an eminent physician to use it. Since doing so, it has proved so satisfactory in restoring and beautifying my hair, as well as strengthening my eyesight, that I have recommended it to the druggists here in Oxford, Raleigh, and a great many of my friends, and believe I have from what others say, caused it to have a wide and extended sale, and deservedly so, as it certainly is the most cleanly and effective hair restorer now before the American people. The "London Hair Color Restorer" can be obtained at all the leading druggists at 75 cents a bottle, or $1.00 for six bottles. jyn24d1w
